

INDEX

- Pythons worshipped in West Africa, i. 83 n.<sup>1</sup>; dead chiefs reincarnated in, ii. 193
- "Quail-hunt," legend on coins of Tarsus, i. 126 n."
- Quails sacrificed to Hercules (Melcarth), i. in sq.; migration of, 112
- Quatuordecimans of Phrygia celebrate the Crucifixion on March 25th, i. 307 «.
- Queen of Egypt the wife of Ammon, i. 72
- of Heaven, i. 303
- n.*>*; incense burnt in honour of the, 228
- Queensland, aborigines of, their beliefs as to the birth of children, i. 102 sq.
- Quirinus and Hora, ii. 233
- Ra, the Egyptian sun-god, ii. 6, 8, 12; identified with many originally independent local deities, 122 sqq.
- Rabbah, captured by David, i. 19
- Rabbis, burnings for dead Jewish, i. 178 sq.
- Rain procured by bones of the dead, i. 22; excessive, ascribed to wrath of God, 22 sq.; instrumental in rebirth of dead infants, 95; regarded as the tears of gods, ii. 33; thought to be controlled by the souls of dead chiefs, 188
- charm in rites of Adonis, i. 237; by throwing water on the last corn cut, 237 sq.
- god represented with tears running from his eyes, ii. 33 n.<sup>2</sup>
- Rainbow totem, i. 101
- Rainless summer on the Mediterranean, i. iS9 sq.
- Rajaraja, king, i. 61
- Rajputana, gardens of Adonis in, i. 241 sq.
- Rambree, sorcerers dressed as women in the island of, ii. 254
- Rameses II., his treaty with the Hittites, i. 135 sq.; his order to the Nile, ii. 33
- Ramman, Babylonian and Assyrian god of thunder, i. 163 sq.
- Rams, testicles of, in the rites of Attis, i. 269
- Ramsay, Sir W. M., on rock-hewn sculptures at Boghaz-Keui, i. 134 n.<sup>1</sup>, 137 «.<sup>4</sup>; on priest-dynasts of Asia Minor, 140 #.<sup>2</sup>; on the god Tark, 147 72.<sup>3</sup>; on the name Olba, 148 n.*, on Hierapolis and Hieropolis, 168 «.<sup>2</sup>; on Attis and Men, 284 ». <sup>8</sup>; on cruel death of the human representative of a god in Phrygia, 285 sq.
- Raoul-Rochette on Asiatic deities with lions, i. 138 «. ; on the burning of cloves to Adonis, 147 w.<sup>1</sup>; on apotheosis by death in the fire, 180 n.<sup>1</sup>

Ratumaibulu, Fijian god of fruit-trees,
i. 90

Readjustment of Egyptian festivals, ii. 91

sqq>

Reapers, Egyptian, their lamentations,
i. 232, ii. 45 ; invoke Isis, 117

Rebirth of infants, means taken to ensure the, i. 91, 93 sqq. | of the dead, precautions taken to prevent, 92 sq. ; of Egyptian kings at the Sed festival, ii.
153. iSS J<7-

Red the colour of Lower Egypt, ii. 21 n.<sup>1</sup>

----- haired men burnt by Egyptians,
ii. 97, 106

Reform, the prophetic, in Israel, i. 24

sq.

Reformations of Hezekiah and Josiah, i.
25

Rehoboam, King, his family, i. 51 n.<sup>2</sup>

Reincarnation of the dead, i. 82 st/y. ; in America, 91 ; in Australia, 99 sqq.

Rekub-el, Syrian god, i. 16

Relations, spirits of near dead, worshipped, i. 175, 176 ; at death become gods, ii. 180

Religion, volcanic, i. 188 sqq. ; how influenced by mother-kin, ii. 202 sqq.

--- and magic, combination of, i. 4 ;
and music, 53 sq.

Religious ideals a product of the male imagination, ii. sir

---systems, great permanent, founded by great men, ii. 159 sq.

Remission of sins through the shedding of blood, i. 299

Remus, the birth of, ii. 235

Renan, E., on Tammuz and Adonis, i.
6 n.<sup>1</sup>; his excavations at Byblus, 14 n.<sup>1</sup>; on Adom-melech, 17 ; on the vale of the Adonis, 29 ?i.; on the burn- ings for the kings of Judah, 178 n.<sup>1</sup>; on the discoloration of" the river
Adonis, 225 rc.<sup>4</sup> ; on the worship of Adonis, 235

Renouf, Sir P. le Page, on Osiris
as the sun, ii. 126

Resemblance of the rites of Adonis to the festival of Easter, i. 254 sqq., 306

Resemblances of paganism to Christianity explained as diabolic

counterfeits, i.
302, 309 sq.

Reshef, Semitic god, i. 16 n.<sup>1</sup>

Resurrection of the dead conceived
on the pattern of the resurrection of Osiris, ii. 15 sq.

--- of Attis at the vernal equinox, i.
272 sq., 307 sq.

---of Hercules (Melcarth), i. in sq.

--- of Osiris dramatically represented in his rites, ii. 85 ; depicted on the